

CALIFORNIA IS LAGGING IN BREEDING SUPPORT

By J. W. MARCHBANK

There was a report at Tanforan the other day of a concerted movement on the part of the "outs" to oust the "ins" from the control of racing in the state. The movement will assume battling formation at the convening of the Legislature in January. I regret to say the agitation, instead of being along the line of adopting measures for the expansion of the breeding operations of California, apparently is one prompted by purely selfish motives. The argument appears to be the "ins" have been getting the spoils long enough and it is time for the "outs" to get theirs.

In all the heated discussion as to turning out the present setup in governmental control of racing in the state, there was not one word about the thoroughbred; all the talk was about the money that can be made either in the tracks already in existence or those to be built, especially in the southern counties.

It is a certainty that not one of the men debating as to just what bills should be introduced in the law making body of the state could have told you Lady Bowman, daughter of Carlaris, won the Opening Day Handicap at Tanforan, to be followed by victories in other stakes of Primulus, Fair Lead, Tick On and Wildland. Furthermore, how many of the men, some members of the Legislature, could have informed you as to the promise of the rearing in California of runners capable of defeating the horses bred in Eastern states and brought here for combat out on the racing strip?

It is an enlightening commentary on the poor progress of breeding in the state that not more than one of the stakes winners at Tanforan this fall was bred in California.

My idea is that the people are deserving of something better than a continuous turmoil provoked by dividend-mad promoters for the perquisites of racing.

The people like the sport and are supporting it hand-somely, but they are terribly tired of all the machinations of various groups to make millions out of it instead of simply providing the highest kind of outdoor amusement.

How would it be for sportsmen instead of dividend-mad promoters to be at the helm?

STREET AND CURB WORK ON SAN JOSE AVENUE NOW STARTED

Crew Of Twenty Men Will Be On Job Next Week—Curbs And Sidewalks To Be Moved First

Equipment rolled to San Jose avenue, Monday of this week, and work was started on the $59,000 street widening job. By next week a crew of twenty men will be in action. Removal of old curbs and sidewalks is scheduled as preliminary work.

Specifications call for an 80 foot right of way from Alemany boulevard to Bepler street. This will accommodate six traffic lanes. Ten feet are allowed on each side of the right of way for sidewalks and curbs.

NEW GRADE

From Wilson to the top of the hill a new street grade will be established. Stair steps now existing at Flournoy and Shakespeare streets are to be eliminated. Above Flournoy, San Jose avenue will curve slightly eastward and run along property lines to intersect Mission at the bank corner.

Below Wilson the present concrete street work will not be removed. Additional width will be added to each side.

New street paving will consist of eight inch concrete base, one and a half inch tieup material and one and a half inch asphalt.

WILL TAKE FOUR MONTHS

O. M. Paul, superintendent on the job, stated that providing weather conditions are favorable the work will reach completion in from four to five months.

To facilitate continuous use of San Jose avenue and prevent traffic tie-ups, Paul said that twenty foot strips of paving near the curb lines will be finished first. These strips may be used for travel while the middle sections are under construction.

OTHER IMPROVEMENTS

In conjunction with street work, new gas and water mains are to be installed and street car tracks above Flournoy are scheduled to be moved.

CONTEMPLATE IMPROVEMENTS FOR A GREATER DALY CITY

Now that our mayor and the other members of the City Council of Daly City have inaugurated the movement and are making a bold bid for consummation of a program of public improvements, they should receive all possible assistance and encouragement.

The council members sensed that thoughts of civic betterments have for a long time been taking root in the minds of the large majority of the citizens of our community. They have now placed before the people a commendable program for our consideration. They should be accorded the undivided support of all our people in their efforts to give us something for the benefit of ourselves and our children.

The example of what can be accomplished by united effort has been demonstrated in the recent erection of three new grammar school buildings and the improvements on the high school property already completed and the beginning of work on a new gymnasium and swimming pool at that institution.

We should act at once, while there is still a possibility of securing federal co-operation and financial aid in the carrying to completion of our needed projects.

In the event that our city fathers deem it advisable and expedient to request the adoption of a bond issue to carry these long needed improvements to completion, let there be no laggards, but let all give a spontaneous response to back up the efforts of our city officials to help Daly City.

It behooves every citizen, old or young, to put shoulders to the wheel and put every betterment project suggested "over the top" in a big way.

Daly City citizens have shown in the recent past that they "know how." The Record bespeaks for the members of our city council the fullest co-operation of the people of this community so that their aims may be carried through to the fullest fruition of their desires.

Back up your city fathers and help yourselves to a New Deal for Daly City.

COUNTY PRESS ASSOCIATION IN REGULAR MEET

Hears Report of Nominating Committee And Partakes Of Excellent Dinner

An interesting meeting of the San Mateo County Press Association was held, Monday evening of this week, at Little Italy Hall, on Mission street in Daly City.

An excellent turkey dinner, with all the trimmings, preceded the business session. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pitschke, of the Daly City Record, were hosts to the association members on this occasion.

Reports were received from committees on legislation matters, county advertising, publication of the C. N. P. A. Rate Book and various other matters.

A nominating committee was appointed by the president to select officers for the coming year. The result of their deliberations follows: For president, Sam Winklebleck of the Redwood City Tribune; for vice president, L. E. Harris, of the Menlo Park Recorder; for secretary treasurer, Mrs. Ann Frahm Brubaker, of the San Mateo Times. Officers will be elected at the December meeting and will assume office in January, 1937.

All excepting two newspaper members were represented. The next meeting will be held at Redwood City, Monday evening, December 7.

Lagamarsino Breaks Jail At Redwood

Ray Lagomarsino, former Alcatraz prisoner, escaped from the San Mateo County jail in Redwood City on Sunday.

Taking advantage of the momentary absence of Jailer Timothy J. O'Rourke, only officer on duty, Lagomarsino walked out the front door of the bastille to freedom. The claim is made he was escorted by two girl friends who came to visit him.

He was being held on a burglary charge. He is also a suspect in four holdups.

FERRY CHANGE OKEH

To coincide with the opening of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge and to establish fares similar to bridge charges, the California Railroad Commission on Monday authorized the Southern Pacific Golden Gate Ferries, Ltd., to reduce fares.

Would Acquire Beaches Of County

Acquisition of beach lands between the Ocean Shore boulevard and the ocean is being urged on the state by the County Board of Supervisors.

A resolution calling on the state to adopt a policy of acquiring intervening property, wherever it is within 300 feet of the center line of the highway and when not already built upon, will be sent to the Department of Public Works.

Daly City Robbers Held To Answer

Joe Hines, Joe McGuigan and Jack Watson, principals in the Westlake Market holdup of October 22, are being held in Redwood City for trial.

After the robbery last month, authorities pursued the youths in a wild Bayshore highway chase before taking them into custody near Burlingame.

TWO HIT-RUN VICTIMS MEET SUDDEN DEATH ON S. M. COUNTY HIGHWAYS

S. F. Ironworker Killed On Bayshore Near Brisbane

Death huddled over the mangled body of a 32 year old crippled iron worker, early this week, a victim of a Bayshore hit-run driver. The dead man is Edward Quinn, 574 Munich street, San Francisco.

Quinn's body was discovered near the highway at Brisbane by J. McCann, watchman in the Southern Pacific tower at Visitation. Both of Quinn's legs were broken and his skull was fractured. A bit of automobile headlight glass, found near the scene, furnished officers the only hit-run clew.

CARL LEVIN DIES

Carl Levin, 25, son of a Half Moon Bay contractor, died in Mills Memorial Hospital, late Saturday, from hit-run injuries.

He suffered a basal skull fracture and other injuries when apparently struck by an automobile while walking along the coastside road south of Half Moon Bay.

A state wide search was launched for the death car with finding of pieces of broken auto wind wing at the scene of the accident.

Hebrew-Christian To Preach Here

Rev. Morris Zutrau, a Hebrew-Christian, will be the speaker in Grace Presbyterian Church Sunday evening at the 7:45 o'clock service. Doctor Zutrau is a man of character and is a forceful speaker. He will demonstrate some of Jewish customs and show their relationship to the Christian faith.

In the morning Rev. John R. Stevenson will speak on "A Contrary Wind and a Troubled Sea."

MANY NEW CITY IMPROVEMENTS PROPOSED BY ADMINISTRATION

City Hall, Library, Jail, Parks, Water And Fire Alarm Systems Are Listed On Progress Program

Inaugurating a widespread program for Daly City improvements, the city council has struck out at several definite points to provide our residents with adequate public facilities.

A new city hall, to be constructed on the present site, tops the building proposals. If plans are carried out, the old hall will be removed and a larger modern structure erected.

Growing needs for additional office space and a larger and better furnished court room and meeting hall has precipitated this proposal. The plan also includes a fire proof jail adjacent to the main building.

ALSO NEW LIBRARY

On the city's Wellington avenue property, directly east of the Catholic Church, a new library is planned. In conjunction with it a large lecture hall may be incorporated.

Improved water systems and a complete series of fire alarm boxes are planned for the southern portion of Daly City. This area, a part of the old Colma district, recently annexed, definitely needs such systems.

IMPROVED PARKS

Completion of the city park between North and South Park avenues is also contemplated. Installation of playground equipment, erection of tennis courts, shower baths and rest rooms; laying out of a baseball diamond; planting of trees and shrubbery are included in the plan.

Acquisition of property in Crocker tract for playground purposes is also contemplated.

TO START IMMEDIATELY

Preliminary preparation for these proposals is to begin immediately. A San Francisco architect is now making rough sketches of the buildings. Within three weeks definite plans will probably be made to carry out the entire improvement program.

Sunday Collision Of Two Machines

Two automobiles collided at the intersection of Evergreen avenue and Irvington street, about 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning, resulting in injuries to four Daly City residents and damaging both cars.

The machines were driven by C. O. Berquist, 38, 898 Templeton avenue, and Peter Kelly, 49, 40 Alexander avenue.

Treated at the Villa Sanatorium for nose, face and head lacerations were C. O. Berquist, 38; Jack Kelly, 8; Edward Kelly, 10, and Wallace Scharr, 13.

All are local residents and were riding in the cars involved in the accident.

New Legislation On Silver Coming

NEW ORDINANCE TO GIVE "TEETH" TO CONDEMNATION PROCEDURE

Act Will Give City Power To Remove Nuisances At Cost Of Property Owners

An ordinance, long needed for the progressive welfare of Daly City, was proposed by the Daly City Council, Monday evening of this week. If passed authorities are empowered to abate nuisances at the cost of property owners.

This action will provide for Daly City "teeth" for its condemnation procedure. Formerly, undesirable structures were condemned, but no action taken to remove them. The city may now abate such obsolete buildings or wreckage and place a lien upon the property for expenses entailed.

CITY AUDITING Tabled

A bid for auditing the city books and checking the budget, submitted by Gordon Rowe of San Francisco, was tabled because of a slight controversy over the price that should be paid for such work. Consultation will

Daly City Veterans Marched In Parade

Wednesday, November 11, Armistice Day, was appropriately observed in Oakland.

The principal attraction of the day was the mammoth parade of many organizations. The line of march including fraternal organizations, artillery units of the U. S. army, infantry detachments, hundreds from the U. S. navy now anchored in the bay and several units of the U. S. marines.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion with their massed colors, drum corps, Auxiliaries, Junior Boys and Girls, were present in great numbers.

Daly City was represented in this parade with the participation of the Department Champion Auxiliary Drill Team of Old Glory Post No. 2044, Veterans of Foreign Wars. This team is to be highly complimented for their efficient work and willingness to parade and advertise our city.

FEDERAL MUSIC PROJECT SHOW COMIC OPERA

Satire And Comedy Will Be Appropriately Shown At Columbia Theater

Something new in stage productions is promised by the Federal Music Project for a three weeks run at the Columbia Theater, November 24 to December 12. "Take Your Choice," a political and social satire set to symphonic accompaniment, is the work of three San Franciscans—Ernst Bacon, Phil Mathias and Ralsch Stoll—and will be given its world premiere here.

A cast of 33 is called for by the complicated script, which mixes dialogue and song in the true tradition of comic opera. "You're the Kind of Person" and the "Finger-Twitchers' Hi-de-ho" songs are highlights in the strikingly original score, probably the first major composition to use a full symphony orchestra in the pit and a uniformed swing band on stage (for the night club scene).

Practically everything in today's news comes into one or another of the nineteen scenes, with appropriate musical accompaniment. A militant Leftist sings "Statistics Show," agitators of another color sing of "socking in the eye which coming through the rye," modern music is taken for a ride on a few bars of "Chop Sticks," to still another kind of accompaniment Doctors Delano and Snoover discuss relief policies.

GOLD AND DOUBLE TAXATION

At the recent meeting of the Northern California Mining Congress held at Yreka, a very interesting paper was read by Claude M. Chaplin, editor and publisher of Mining & Industrial News, a San Francisco publication. In his paper, Mr. Chaplin drives home forcefully the fact that it is unjust to attempt to apply general tax measures to the gold mining industry which were designed for competitive and price-free businesses.

We should like to reprint his paper in full, for it covers a subject worthy the attention of every one who has a business in any way affected by gold mining and that means every business man in Alaska and most of the business houses of Seattle. However, we can summarize the highlights of the argument.

Gold mining is a non-competitive industry in which the price of the commodity produced is set by the government and in which the price is in nowise affected by the laws of supply and demand which exert their influence on all other commodities. It is also an industry in which the raw materials are depleted without possibility of replacement, thus reducing the value of the property with each ounce mined. In the application of our present system of commodity taxation the tax is always passed on to the ultimate consumer. In the case of gold this is impossible, as the sole consumer is the government and the price is fixed by the consumer. The result is that the producer of gold pays taxes on everything he uses in the production of the only product he has to sell and he cannot add this heavy item of his production cost to his selling price. He therefore pays double taxation and at the same time sees his capital depleted with each ton of ore milled or each yard of gravel sluiced.

It would seem obvious that when a valuable fundamental industry differs in all its basic principles from every other industry that it should receive special consideration in the matter of taxation to the end that it carry its just share of the tax burden and no more. Instead it is now operating and has always been forced to operate under a blanket tax system designed to cover competitive, price-fluctuating, market-speculative industries in which taxes play a large part in the ultimate price to the consumer.

This is not a subject new to mining men, but mining men seem to have been powerless in combating it. It has seriously retarded the development of gold mining, for people have become tax conscious during New Deal days and they do not relish the thought of double taxation when one tax is more than most can pay. The industry needs the help of the business men who exist by virtue of the efforts of the mining men. We should preach individually and collectively that gold mining is less profitable and gold mining investment less attractive so long as it is afflicted with unjust and pernicious double taxation.

MADE FOR BOTH SEASONS OF YEAR

The New Air Conditioning Apparatus Adaptable For Winter And Summer

During the summer season of every year the interior of the state of California is daily scorched by a sun of almost tropical force. And in the valley regions many of the midsummer nights are oppressive. Under such conditions the problem of domestic comfort was acute indeed before modern scientific invention came to the rescue of the homemaker. With household duties that had to be attended to, domestic existence became a burden. Partial relief was afforded by improvements in the way of labor-saving appliances, such as the kitchen range, the automatic water heater, the food refrigerator, and others. But the atmosphere of the kitchen itself, as well as of other parts of the house remained oppressive, and the electric fan, useful and efficient though it proved to be, did not adequately solve the problem of atmospheric comfort for the entire establishment. It was not until air conditioning became a practical science that the problem was solved.

The principle of the air conditioning apparatus is to rid the atmosphere of a room or building of the qualities that cause discomfort. In summer time it cleans the air of all impurities, wrings out excess moisture, cools and circulates a constant current of refreshing quality. Equipments of this kind are not new to engineering science. For some years past they have been installed in factories, office buildings, theaters and other places where men and women congregate. But such equipments were all of large order, until it occurred to the men of science that what could be used in one kind of building could be found equally useful in another, and so smaller units came into play. Now it is feasible to supply not only any home, but any particular part of it, with air conditioning apparatus that will give satisfactory results.

An electric motor operating a fan and refrigerating apparatus through which the air is propelled are the main construction features of this appliance.

But the homemaker may say: "The summer season of this year is going fast, so why not wait until next year?" The answer to this is that the modern air conditioning apparatus works both ways. It is adaptable for winter as well as for summer use. In winter the appliance is employed to moisten and warm the air, reversing the summer procedure. With properly conditioned air one is comfortable on a winter day with the atmosphere of the room registering a fine degree of well distributed warmth.

The California household is able today to enjoy comfort to the point of luxury, no matter where the household is located, on mountain, in valley or by seashore, and no matter what the elements outside may be doing to make things generally unpleasant.

Wrong Axle Tilt

When a car tends to wander from one side of the road to the other it is usually caused by incorrect caster, or tilt of the front axle. This condition is the result of worn parts, settling of springs and the like.

Caster, camber (outward slant of front wheels) and toe-in of front wheels are so closely related that altering one affects all. The remedy is to replace worn parts and have camber, caster and toe-in restored to their original specifications.

Consolidation By Transport Rule

A transport rule has resulted in the consolidation of Canadian land, sea and air transportation and all government activities in passenger and freight systems into the department of transport.

Summer Tire Wear

Wear on tires is much more rapid in summer than in winter.

This is due to two main causes. Abrasion is much greater in summer, when roads become dry and gritty. Tread rubber is much less resistant to the abrasive effect of highways when it is hot.

Ford Dealers Say Business Is Better

They're bright skies ahead for the Ford dealers of America as the curtain rings slowly down on the 1936 sales year, and preparations are made for the heavy fall rush following the introduction of the new models next month.

A survey taken this week by executives of the Richmond branch reveals that Ford dealers in the Richmond area, which includes the local territory, enter the 1937 model year in a better financial position than ever before.

Because of the October used car clearance sale, used car stocks are swept clean. Dealers are left with practically no dead weight on hand, one metropolitan agency reporting that by auto show time in November it will be lucky to have a car of any kind to sell.

Prognosticating business for the 1937 model year, dealers showered upon Richmond branch executives nothing but bubbling optimism. Though business boomed in 1936, they say, the saturation point for cars was not reached by any means.

Five Year Goal Is Celebrated

Mrs. Florence Hopman of Gambetta street entertained at her home, Saturday afternoon of last week, honoring her daughter Joan, who celebrated her fifth birthday.

The children spent the afternoon playing games. The table was daintily decorated in pink and blue crepe paper, with a huge birthday cake as the centerpiece. Joan received many lovely gifts.

The guests included Peggy Bemis, Dolores Gillies, Barbara and Joan Nelson, Phyllis Lane, Frances and Paul Hopkins, Betty Conroy, Yvonne Hume, Bonnie Jean McHugh, Jean Michelsen, Joan, Roger and Janet Maher, Ronald Judson, Shirley Overmohle, Billy Ferro, Ernestine Firriera, Barbara Ford, Jean Eliassen, Dorothy and Jean Ginder.

Most of the youngsters were accompanied by their mothers.

Razor 4,000 Years Old Still Good For Shaving

Prof. Allan Chester Johnson of Princeton shaved himself the other day with a razor more than 4,000 years old. It is made of glass-like black obsidian and was found by him in 1910, just outside the palace of Minos in Cnossus, Crete. Doctor Johnson was still a student at that time. The tool is about two inches long and three-quarters of an inch wide, tapering to a sharp two-edged blade. No metal of that period in Greek history could hold an edge like obsidian, the professor asserts, adding that even today he gets a very satisfactory shave from his unique razor.

State Industrial Board Reports Wage Adjustments

The Division of Industrial Welfare reports that through its activities during the nine month period beginning January 1, 1936, $156,986.88 was added to the earnings of women and minor workers in California. Of this amount, wage adjustments collected totaled $35,046.61 and affected 8,300 workers. In plants operating on a piece rate basis in the fruit and vegetable canning industry, $120,010.76 was reported as audit adjustments paid and added to the earnings of 37,072 women and minor employees. A similar audit is carried on in plants in the nut cracking and sorting industry where work is paid for on a piece rate basis, and $1,929.51 was reported paid and added to the earnings of 325 women and minor workers in this industry since January 1, 1936.

During September, the total paid to women and minor workers was $19,511.87. This consisted of $5,992.04 collected in wage adjustments, $13,515.93 reported in audit adjustments in fruit and vegetable canneries and $3.90 reported in audit adjustments in nut cracking and sorting plants.

During September, complaints were received from 100 workers regarding non-payment of wages, improper working conditions or hours of work over the legal maximum. These complaints were investigated, and wages and working conditions adjusted.

Routine and complaint payroll and sanitary inspections, investigations, audits and calls made by the agents and auditors of the division during September totaled 833.

Learners' licenses were issued for the employment of 443 learners during the past month. Permits were issued to 111 infirm or elderly workers authorizing their employment at less than the legal minimum rate and 16 such permits were renewed in September.

Industrial Welfare Commission Order No. 11a, governing the employment of women and minors in the manufacturing industry, provides that no employer shall give industrial work to women and minors to be done in their homes except upon permit. During September, seven certificates were issued for industrial work to be performed in the home.

ANCIENT BRIDGE TO BE FEATURE

The completion of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge will be marked by a wonderful celebration. Among the many features heralding this outstanding event will be the colorful picturization of many famous bridges, mythical and real.

One of the bridges to be depicted will be the bridge of San Luis Rey, which in its day was one of the finest and most picturesque in all Peru.

This structure was on the high-road between Lima and Cuzco and hundreds of persons passed over it every day. The Incas, more than a century before, had woven it of osier, a variety of the willow, whose pliable branches are used to make baskets and various other articles.

Because of its strength and durability it had continued through the years and no one thought that it would ever collapse. This bridge spanned a deep gorge. It was a mere ladder of thin slats which seemed to swing out over the chasm, with only dried vines for a hand rail. One day the unexpected happened. The bridge collapsed sending several pedestrians to their death into the dark abyss below.

This bridge of San Luis Rey will be depicted during the Bay Bridge celebration, and because bridges have done so much toward the progress and development of mankind, this feature of the program should be of interest to everyone.

Jefferson Varsity Loses To San Mateo

The Jefferson Indians dropped a close game to San Mateo High last Friday at San Mateo by the score of 7-0.

It was a close, hard-fought game from beginning to end, with neither team having any distinct advantage. San Mateo received its lone touchdown in the first quarter as the result of a fumble. Jefferson's speedy little safety man, Bud Simpson, dropped a punt on his own fifteen yard line, where San Mateo recovered. The team from down south scored a few plays later on a line plunge. The conversion was good, and the scoring for the day was over.

Jefferson nearly succeeded in scoring late in the fourth quarter, when a 60 yard march brought the ball to San Mateo's 25 yard line. The ball was lost when San Mateo intercepted a pass. Jefferson regained the ball on a fumble on the next play, but the final gun boomed to end the game.

Jefferson put up a spirited, determined fight, but couldn't quite put the ball over the final yard stripe.

A New And More Glorious Era Dawns For San Mateo County

Faster transportation to Central and Southern California, greater industrial development, more wealth, the future home of thousands of new residents, a county pulsating with life and activity . . . this is what the opening of the San Francisco Bay Bridge means to San Mateo County.

This great span, linking the Peninsula to the mainland with arms of steel, opens the gates to new opportunities for San Mateo, a county which though replete with remembrances of the romantic past when this land was a part of the far-flung Kingdom of Spain still is a good place in which to live.

But better than merely being a good place to live in, it is easy to reach with the completion of the San Francisco Bay Bridge.

San Mateo County is a land of pleasing harmonies; of blue lakes and blue skies; of forested and majestic mountains; of tumbling streams and wide, scenic highways; of rich estates and vast gardens; of lovely homes and healthy kiddies; of complete contentment and an abundance of happiness—all within the circling embrace of the placid Bay and the broad Pacific Ocean.

San Mateo County on Friday, November 13, and Saturday, November 14, is co-operating with San Francisco in its colorful bridge-opening parades. If you can do so, attend these festivities . . . help to swell the gay throng that will celebrate these historic events.

Prepared by the San Mateo County Department of Publicity.
